Pastor's Sunday Reflection

Reflection on Luke 7:11-17

In today's Gospel, we encounter Jesus at the gate of Nain, where a funeral procession carries the only son of a widowed mother to his burial. Jesus, moved with compassion, stops the procession and raises the young man to life, restoring him to his grieving mother. On this Feast of All Souls, we remember our beloved dead and find profound comfort in Christ's power over death itself. Just as Jesus wept with those who mourned and brought hope to the hopeless, He stands with us in our grief for those we have lost. This passage reminds us that death does not have the final word—resurrection and eternal life are God's promise to all who believe. As we pray for the souls of the faithful departed, we trust in the same compassionate Lord who once said, "Young man, I say to you, arise!" Let us hold fast to the hope that one day, all tears will be wiped away, and we will be reunited with our loved ones in the joy of God's kingdom. Today we commend all souls to the Lord's tender mercy, confident in His love that conquers even death.

Blessings,

Fr Mark

Hello Fellow Parishioners,

We are embarking on a thorough Fall Cleaning and need some volunteers to help with the various tasks. Since many of you have worked behind the scenes, you know the significance of items we brought from the various parishes in the merger 12 years ago. We are looking to see what we should keep, donate to another church (perhaps a mission church), replace due to wear and tear or organize in a better way. We need both parishioners who are aware of history and parishioners who can just physically help. If interested, please call the parish office and leave your name and contact info with Doyin. Thank you!

Br. Joe Pense is available to visit those that no longer can make it to mass at their residence. He will bring a listening ear and Eucharist. Br. Joe's background is working in community mental health and is available to meet with those that would like a visit. Please contact him at jpense@stmmp.org
